

Quinta do Montalto 'Cepa Pura' Aragonez

(VR Lisboa)

100% Aragonez (Tempranillo)

The Cepa Pura Aragonez is a spectacular and complex expression of this Portuguese named Tempranillo. Half of the must aged in both French and American 225L oak barriques for ten months, and the other half aged in 700L French barrels of 5 years for 12 months. When both reconvened in stainless before an unfiltered bottling, the complexities of the finished wine was ready for its rest in the glass. The result is refined and lovely, full of gripping tannin, but still with elegance and grace all the way through to the finish. Beautiful fruit, an earthy base, and a great acidic structure, lends this bottle to age gracefully for a few years, but is also ready for consumption over a nice rustic meal.

Bon Vivant

Quinta do Montalto 'Cepa Pura' Aragonez

(VR Lisboa)

100% Aragonez (Tempranillo)

The Cepa Pura Aragonez is a spectacular and complex expression of this Portuguese named Tempranillo. Half of the must aged in both French and American 225L oak barriques for ten months, and the other half aged in 700L French barrels of 5 years for 12 months. When both reconvened in stainless before an unfiltered bottling, the complexities of the finished wine was ready for its rest in the glass. The result is refined and lovely, full of gripping tannin, but still with elegance and grace all the way through to the finish. Beautiful fruit, an earthy base, and a great acidic structure, lends this bottle to age gracefully for a few years, but is also ready for consumption over a nice rustic meal.

Bon Vivant

Quinta do Montalto 'Cepa Pura' Aragonez

(VR Lisboa)

100% Aragonez (Tempranillo)

The Cepa Pura Aragonez is a spectacular and complex expression of this Portuguese named Tempranillo. Half of the must aged in both French and American 225L oak barriques for ten months, and the other half aged in 700L French barrels of 5 years for 12 months. When both reconvened in stainless before an unfiltered bottling, the complexities of the finished wine was ready for its rest in the glass. The result is refined and lovely, full of gripping tannin, but still with elegance and grace all the way through to the finish. Beautiful fruit, an earthy base, and a great acidic structure, lends this bottle to age gracefully for a few years, but is also ready for consumption over a nice rustic meal.

Bon Vivant

Quinta do Montalto 'Cepa Pura' Aragonez

(VR Lisboa)

100% Aragonez (Tempranillo)

The Cepa Pura Aragonez is a spectacular and complex expression of this Portuguese named Tempranillo. Half of the must aged in both French and American 225L oak barriques for ten months, and the other half aged in 700L French barrels of 5 years for 12 months. When both reconvened in stainless before an unfiltered bottling, the complexities of the finished wine was ready for its rest in the glass. The result is refined and lovely, full of gripping tannin, but still with elegance and grace all the way through to the finish. Beautiful fruit, an earthy base, and a great acidic structure, lends this bottle to age gracefully for a few years, but is also ready for consumption over a nice rustic meal.

Bon Vivant

Quinta do Montalto 'Cepa Pura' Aragonez

(VR Lisboa)

100% Aragonez (Tempranillo)

The Cepa Pura Aragonez is a spectacular and complex expression of this Portuguese named Tempranillo. Half of the must aged in both French and American 225L oak barriques for ten months, and the other half aged in 700L French barrels of 5 years for 12 months. When both reconvened in stainless before an unfiltered bottling, the complexities of the finished wine was ready for its rest in the glass. The result is refined and lovely, full of gripping tannin, but still with elegance and grace all the way through to the finish. Beautiful fruit, an earthy base, and a great acidic structure, lends this bottle to age gracefully for a few years, but is also ready for consumption over a nice rustic meal.

Bon Vivant

Quinta do Montalto 'Cepa Pura' Aragonez

(VR Lisboa)

100% Aragonez (Tempranillo)

The Cepa Pura Aragonez is a spectacular and complex expression of this Portuguese named Tempranillo. Half of the must aged in both French and American 225L oak barriques for ten months, and the other half aged in 700L French barrels of 5 years for 12 months. When both reconvened in stainless before an unfiltered bottling, the complexities of the finished wine was ready for its rest in the glass. The result is refined and lovely, full of gripping tannin, but still with elegance and grace all the way through to the finish. Beautiful fruit, an earthy base, and a great acidic structure, lends this bottle to age gracefully for a few years, but is also ready for consumption over a nice rustic meal.

Bon Vivant